

NEW ACADEMIC YEAR AT THE NEW PREMISES

Preparations for the academic year 2008/2009 at the International School for Social and Business Studies (ISSBS) were marked by the faculty moving to the new premises.

Moving to the new, renovated premises, located on the 2nd floor of the old Kovinotehna at Mariborska cesta 7, is a very important achievement for the faculty, enabled by the Municipality of Celje. In comparison to the academic year 2007/2008 when ISSBS's activities took place on two different floors and in only two lecture rooms, in 2008/2009 the faculty will have at its disposal 6 new lecture rooms, 3 office rooms for its lecturers and more comfortable offices for its employees. The new premises will definitely contribute to higher quality of the faculty's education and research, and improve the atmosphere at the ISSBS.

Moving to the new premises is only a part of the faculty's active preparations for the academic year 2008/2009. On 12 September 2008, the ISSBS organised a meeting of its higher education teachers and associates. The faculty is currently also dealing with enrolment of students into all three study programmes which will be carried in 2008/2009. The coming academic year will, as the year before, start with the Introduction to studies weeks which aim at facilitating new students' transition from a secondary school to higher education.
